Colour your clubs!

You can now customise your golf shafts in a matter of minutes with a hairdryer . . . and Shaft Skinz! Shaft Skinz take just minutes to put on and can be removed in seconds, without leaving any residue. Thin printed sleeves are sold in packs of 12 and do not affect playability. shaftskinz.com

Latest Equipment

Go free wheelin'

IT HAS now become very much commonplace to invest in new golf equipment at the start of the season, giving you the extra incentive to get out on to the course and put your new gear into action.

One of the most popular new investments a club golfer tends to make is the electric cart. Just like golf bags have evolved from the typical early 1990s hard, circular cart bags into more lightweight, modern stand bags, the carts market is ever-evolving.

The usual big-name brands always spring to mind and their carts never fail to disappoint - but it is worth looking around and checking out the other models available, where you might find something that suits the eye.

For this special carts feature, we have chosen the very latest new carts on the market, some of which you might not have seen before. From four wheelers, traditional push 'n' pull versions and the quite funky Tri-Bag design, we've got every kind of cart possible.

Get custom fitted now!

WORLD No.1 Tiger Woods says he can't understand why amateur golfers still play with clubs that don't suit their swings - and neither can we.

Do yourself a favour this season and book yourself an appointment at your nearest custom fit centre and get your clubs made-to-measure.

Whether you're buying brand-new clubs or just want your current set properly fitted, giving up 40 minutes of your time is well worth it. You will find details of fitting centres on every manufacturer's website . . . or just ask your local golf retailer.
